

Welcome to the Medway LINK

Your LINK for improving health and social care

What is the Medway Local Involvement Network (LINK)?

The Medway LINK is an independent network of local people and community groups working together to influence and improve local health and social care services.

The job of the Medway LINK is to involve local people in decisions about what services are needed and to make sure existing services are of the right quality.

The Medway LINK has powers to make it effective and to make sure that changes happen.

Who can join the Medway LINK?
